DETAILS

It's nearly impossible to get enough protein from diet alone without also getting excess calories fat and carbohydrates. Muscle Gain[®] protein shake is a metabolically balanced blend of high-grade proteins that supplies amino acids and other nutrients that are essential to protein synthesis and muscle building in an easy-to-digest formula that includes digestive enzymes like papain and bromelain to improve absorption of protein. Because the muscles also need vitamins and minerals, Muscle Gain contains vitamins C and B-6 and calcium. This advanced formula offers a more comprehensive approach to sports performance than other brands of muscle-building, protein drinks.

Is this you?

Someone who wants to add lean muscle mass

Someone who needs more protein in your diet without excess fats and carbohydrates

An athlete who needs high-quality protein to aid your training

Someone who wants to retain lean muscle mass during periods of calorie restriction
